It also proves that an institution with an artistic temperament can survive in Fifth Avenue. Out of a business of glass Ovington's have built a reputation of iron and reared a temple of stone on a foundation of fragile and delicate things. Combining duty with beauty, and esteeming quality as high as the quest for gain, they have well carned their promotion to Upper Fifth Avenue, whose un written motion is this.

Franklin Simon & Co.

THESE small fac-similes represent the public welcome which two of our neighbors have extended to us. They speak of our new shop, but in a larger way, they speak more eloquently of the spirit of the great institutions which conceived them.

N Sunday, in the newspapers of New York, Lord & Taylor publicly welcomed Ovington's as a next door neighbor.

Lord & Taylor

It was an act of courtesy which we cannot soon forget nor lightly pass over. Coming from a firm which, for nearly a century has stood for all that is fine and wholesome in business, coming so freely and unselfishly. it was a token of business fellowship perculiarly American.

And to Franklin Simon & Company are due the thanks which their superb welcome inspires. For into it they have put that broadness and good spirit which has distinguished their progress.

We thank Lord & Taylor. We thank Franklin Simon, and we thank all our neighbors and our friends who have made this forward step of ours much more to us than merely a business move.

For happy indeed is the family or company which, leaving an old home for a new, finds that its neighbors are its friends.
